Special Scholarship Program for International Students
The University of Tokyo Fellowship (Todai Fellowship)
Graduate School of Frontier Sciences
FY2016 Application Guidelines

The Todai Fellowship provides financial support to international students of excellent academic achievement in their academic research in the doctoral courses of The University of Tokyo by granting a scholarship (hereinafter referred to as the “Todai Fellowship”) as well as promotes the admission of international students from various countries.

1. Eligibility
   a. Those applying for admission to a doctoral course of the Graduate School of Frontier Sciences.
   b. Those who hold a valid visa to stay in Japan as a “College Student” as prescribed in Appendix 1 of the Immigration Control and Refugee Recognition Act (Order No. 319 of October 4, 1951) as of his/her enrollment.

   Note
   Those applying and/or planning to apply for fellowships or scholarships provided by private organizations are, in principle, ineligible.

2. Number of Recipients in GSFS
   September 2016  3
   April 2017  2
   September 2017 (tentative)  1

   Please note that Koga Shinsuke Scholarship (1 out of 3 scholarships for September 2016 entrants) is for American or British nationals only.

3. Stipend
   JPY 200,000/month

   Fellowship recipients must not submit any application for tuition exemption. In addition, receiving scholarships from any other organization is prohibited once you become a Fellowship recipient.

4. Period of Payment
   Three years

   If any Fellowship recipient is deemed to be on a leave of absence, absent from school for an inordinately long period of time, fails to accomplish expected academic achievement, or is expelled from The University, the payment of the Fellowship will be suspended or be rescinded. Detailed information will be provided at the time of Fellowship acceptance.

5. Required Documents
   a. Application Form for 2016 Todai Fellowship  designated form, original only
   b. Recommendation letter from your former supervisor (preferably from your master program supervisor)  designated form, original only
   c. Transcript of graduate school and undergraduate school  each school, one certified copy
   d. Study Plan  designated form, original only
   e. List of past achievements  designated form, original only
   f. Copy of presented papers  three main papers
6. Submission Period and Methods

Submission period
- Schedule A applicants: June 16, 2016 to June 22, 2016
- Schedule B applicants: November 22, 2016 to November 29, 2016

Submission method
Use a separate plain envelope for your Todai Fellowship application. On the outside of the envelope write “Enclosed Todai Fellowship Application” and your last name. Then enclose the Fellowship application envelope in the designated official admission application envelope.

7. Methods of Selection
The screening committee will assess applications based on submitted documents and the result of examinations for admission.

8. Result
GSFS will notify only successful candidates of the result by postal mail:
- Recipients enrolling in September 2016: September 2016
- Recipients enrolling in April 2017: February 2017
- Recipients enrolling in September 2017 (tentative): August 2017 (tentative)

9. Notes
a. Submitted documents will not be returned for any reason.

b. Those who have decided not to enroll in the Graduate School of Frontier Sciences must decline a candidacy.

c. Recipients must hold the “College Student” status of eligibility. Those who hold any other status eligibility are NOT eligible to receive the Todai Fellowship.

d. If GSFS recognizes any false information in submitted application documents, discovers recipients will or are to receive any other fellowships or scholarships than Todai Fellowship, GSFS will rescind Todai Fellowship and shall order all stipends provided until then to be returned.

e. Number of recipients and amount of stipend may be changed without notice.